Off to the Races with Mukha the Dingo

Story by
Ray Chung

Illustrations by
Emily Hurst Pritchett

When a shy but curious dingo named Mukha becomes lost at a horse racing event, she'll do anything to find her humans. Mukha's adventure is full of twists and turns as she accidentally runs in a terrier race, unintentionally participates in a fancy hat contest, and inadvertently winds up on the race-track during the main event! Mukha will delight attendees and surprise race officials, but will she find her humans?

About the Author

Ray Chung is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and Jefferson Medical College. He is a practicing orthopedic hand surgeon, who is blessed to live in the Virginia Piedmont with his rescue pups. Ray wishes to share their antics and a glimpse of country life to entertain and enlighten kids around the world. He helps maintain Mukha's Instagram page @mukhathedingo in her memory.

About the Illustrator

Emily grew up in western New York and has loved to draw and paint all her life. She studied illustration at Brigham Young University in Utah before moving back to the East Coast. She loves to read books for kids and grown-ups, sing, dance, and play video games. She currently lives in Boston, where she loves to hike in the woods with her husband and son.
