WHO IS SINGING?

STORY BY JANET HALFMANN ILLUSTRATED BY CHRISSY CHABOT

Cheer -o- lee,
cheer-up! Who is singing?

Have you ever heard a tune from the treetops and wondered, Who is singing?

Birds are singing and calling all around us, but every bird's song is different. Some even sound like familiar words! In this interactive read-aloud book, children (and adults) can learn to identify twelve common birds by sight as well as by sound. Next time you visit your local park, close your eyes and listen closely. Soon you'll be able to tell who is singing!

About the Author

Janet Halfmann is an award-winning children's author who strives to make her books come alive for young readers and listeners. She writes about family and community, animals and nature, and about little-known people of achievement. Janet has written almost fifty fiction and nonfiction books for children, including The Clothesline Code: The Story of Civil War Spies Lucy Ann and Dabney Walker and Grandma's Window for Brandylane Publishers.

Janet was formerly a daily newspaper reporter, children's magazine managing editor, and a creator of coloring and activity books for Golden Books. She is the mother of four and has seven grandkids and two great-grands. When Janet isn't writing, she enjoys gardening, exploring nature, visiting living-history museums, and spending time with family. She grew up on a farm in Michigan and now lives in Wauwatosa, Wisconsin.
